The test will consist of four questions. Students will be assessed according to the following criteria: (max 5 points): a)Excellent knowledge of the contents; advanced ability to apply the knowledge; language always appropriate; excellent learning skills: points 5 b)good knowledge of the contents; good ability to apply the knowledge; language for the most appropriate; good learning skills: points 4 c)adequate knowledge of the contents; adequate capacity to apply the knowledge; language not always appropriate; sufficient learning skills: point 3 d)Insufficient knowledge of the contents; inadequate capacity to apply the knowledge; inappropriate language; Insufficient learning skills: points 2.

	e)poor knowledge of the contents; inadequate ability to apply the knowledge; language never appropriate; poor learning skill: point 1. The oral test consists of a colloquium aimed at ensuring, through the questions and the translation of the texts studied, the adequate possession of the knowledge required by the discipline, an adequate capacity to apply the knowledge acquired in the specific field of Latin language and literature, the ability to provide independent judgments on subjects studied, the acquisition of an adequate language. Students will be assessed according to the following criteria: a) The student demonstrates an inadequate understanding of the linguistic, historical and literary aspects of a text; he doesn't make exegetical proposals and doesn't formulate admissible judgments; he expresses himself in an unconfident and incorrect language; he hasn't achieved any learning skills. Insufficient evaluation. b) The student demonstrates just enough understanding of the linguistic, historical and literary aspects of a text; he not always makes exegetical proposals and formulates admissible judgments; he expresses himself in an unconfident language; he demonstrates just sufficient learning skills. Points 18-19 c) The student demonstrates an adequate understanding of the linguistic, historical and literary aspects of a text; he makes adequate exegetical proposals; he formulates admissible judgments; he expresses himself in a correct language; he demonstrates sufficient learning skills. Points 20-23 d) The student demonstrates a good understanding of the linguistic, historical and literary aspects of a text; he makes convincing exegetical proposals; he formulates judgments autonomously; he expresses himself in an accurate language; he demonstrates significant learning skills. Points 24-27 e) The student demonstrates excellent understanding of the linguistic, historical and literary aspects of a text; he makes very convincing exegetical proposals; he formulates judgments autonomously; he expresses himself in a very accurate language; he demonstrates excellent learning skills. points 28-30. The final assessment will result from from the sum of the results achieved in the ongoing evaluation (1/3 of the overall evaluation) and the results obtained in the oral examination (2/3 of the overall evaluation). If the result of the ongoing evaluation is insufficient (less than 18 points), in the oral examination the student will be evaluated on the whole program. Similarly, the student, who is not satisfied with the outcome of the ongoing evaluation can get a new general assessment in the oral test with questions on the whole program. The student, who for justified reasons did not take the ongoing evaluation, will consequently be examined in the final examination on the whole program; in this case he will have to arrange with the teacher an additional translation test. A "cum laude" evaluation may be added to the highest grade (30) as an award of special distinction (30 cum laude) if the student shows a solid competence of the disciplinary tools and knows how to use autonomously the secondary literature
