EDUCATIONAL OBJECTIVES	Aim of the Cours entitled "God as a phenomenon" is to show, using the perspective of Jean-Luc Marion as a theoretical guide, the relationship between the question of "God" and philosophy. Does the way of "being" used in philosophy to approach the question of God suit the latter? Does putting this issue back into the field mean leaving the metaphysical conceptuality unchanged or does the imperative to modify the condition of thinkability of phenomena come from it? The Course will try to make people feel the weight of these questions.
TEACHING METHODS	Frontal teaching, Guided discussion on the proposed texts, seminars held by the student. For non-attending students there is the possibility of to take advantage of the registration of the first lesson in which the course and its purposes are presented.
